Morey Not a Myth.

With reference to H. L. Morey, the man to whom Garfield wrote the infamous letter advocating the importation of Chinese pauper labor to this country, the Utica Observer says:

We are glad to be able, by proof which admits of no question, to stamp out the wretched lie set up by Marshal Jewell that there was no such man in Lynn, Mass., as H. L. Morey.

William Nash, of the Reynolds Brothers' shoe factory, in this city, was in Lynn in 1878, and for ten years before that. He worked in the factory of Morgan & Dore, in that city, and went out with the other Crispins at the time of the famous "lock-out" instituted by the shoe manufacturers against that union in 1878. The employers, determined to destroy the Crispins, formed a union, opened an agency and set machinery to work to get outside workmen. Mr. Morey had charge of this agency and distributed the men hired by it round among the different factories. Mr. Nash had no personal acquaintance with this Morey, but knew him as the other Crispins knew him—by sight on the streets as the representative of the employers, who were trying to break up the shoemakers' organization, and saw him daily.

Mr. Nash says that the pretense that there was no such man there, and that he had not the position in the Employers' Union which Garfield assigns him in his letter, is absurd.

Mr. Nash, furthermore, says it is not strange that the denial of Morey's existence should be based upon the authority of the Boston Traveller, because, during the labor troubles in Lynn, this Traveller was one of the worst enemies the workmen had to contend with.

Here, then, workmen of Utica, is the best possible answer to the lie with which the Radicals seek to cloak the record of their candidate in the matter of Chinese cheap labor. A man who toils in your midst, whom you know, bears evidence to the falsity of the pretense that the person Garfield wrote that suicidal letter to is a man of straw. He knew to his cost, as did thousands of other shoemakers, who Morey was.

Rules for Health.

Never go to bed with your feet sticking out of the window, particularly when it is raining or freezing.

Never stand in the rain all night. It checks perspiration and spoils rain water for washing purposes.

Never spank your children with a hand-saw, or box their ears with the sharp edge of a hatchet, as it is apt to affect the brain.

To enlarge the muscles of the arms and legs, climbing up and down the chimney (especially if the house is a four-story one) three or four times before breakfast, is a cheap exercise and gives a voracious appetite.

Escarache in children is a common and vexatious complaint. To cure it at once bore a hole in the tympanum with a gimlet and pour in oil and things. If the child keeps on crying bore it all the way to the other ear.

More than three pigs' feet and half a mince pie eaten at midnight will not generally cause the consumer to dream of hours, paradise, accommodating bankers, and other good things, at least they are not apt to do so.

Corns may be easily cured. The most torturing corn can at once be extirpated as follows: Take a sharp knife and find the joint of the toe whereupon the corn resides, insert the knife in the articulation, cut off the toe and throw it away. (Patent applied for.)

The habit of drinking can be cured by giving the drinkers all the liquor they want to drink all the time. We know of two in our own experience who were cured in three weeks. One jumped out of a fourth-story window and ran a curbstone into his head. The other didn't get up one morning, and has now a curbstone growing over his head in the graveyard.

One of the oldest merchants of Akron and the leading druggist of that section, Mr. E. Steinbacher, informed the writer that without exception the sale of the Hamburg Drops was the most satisfactory of anything he had ever sold, and that the unprecedented demand was due solely to its merits. Such emphatic expressions need no comment on our part.

The Ameer Reported Murdered.

LAHORE, Oct. 26.—It is reported from Peshawar that anarchy reigns in Cabul and that the ameer has been murdered. There has been no news by post for several days.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—News relative to the murder of the ameer and the prevalence of anarchy in Cabul is from the civil and military Gazette, of Lahore, an authority undisputed. The India office here, however, has no confirmation of the report.

A Steamer Burned.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 26.—At half-past 2 o'clock this morning the steamer Trader, lying at the wharf, was burned to the water's edge. Several local packets were for a short time in danger, but fortunately received no damage. The Trader was a small craft plying between here and Shawnee Village. Oscar Postal, her captain, narrowly escaped with his life.

Rats Devouring a Dead Man.

SHOALS, Ind., Oct. 26.—Yesterday morning a man named David Brown was found dead in a coal house. He had been intoxicated for the past week or two, and is supposed to have died in a fit. When found his face was partially eaten up by rats. Brown was a miner by occupation, and has a small family.

The Big Floods and Religious Troubles.

PARIS, Oct. 26.—The floods near Cherbourg have subsided. Only two children were drowned. Much damage has been done to property.

It is understood that the government has decided to dissolve all non authorized religious orders before the assembling of chambers.

Supposed Incendiary Fire.

PLAINFIELD, Ind., Oct. 26.—A new barn belonging to a Mr. Myers, living in the southeastern part of this county, was destroyed by fire this morning. Grain and farming implements to the amount of $900 were lost. No insurance. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Ireland a Part of America.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—J. B. Kill in speaking at a Banquet in Galway, declared that every letter that came across the Atlantic brought Ireland more closely to America. They were in fact no longer Ireland but one of the States of the United States.

Renowned Resignation of Ireland's Secretary.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Irish Times states that Wm. E. Forster, chief secretary for Ireland, has placed his resignation in the hands of Premier Gladstone. The statement is discredited.

Two Items from the Huntington Democrat.

Mr. E. A. K. Hackett, of the Fort Wayne Sentinel, was in the city on Monday evening last in the interests of his paper. Mr. Hackett is an enterprising gentleman and is making a success of his new enterprise.

From some cause not yet made public, Will Moffit has suddenly ceased his visits to Fort Wayne, and now, for consolation, he buckles on the armor of the mighty hunter and goes forth to the forests seeking whom he may devour. His appearance last Tuesday morning was simply terrible, and what will be the end, no man can conjecture.

Corn Beer.

Take one pint of corn and boil it until it is a little soft, add to it a pint of molasses and one gallon of water, shake them well together, and set it by the fire, and in twenty-four hours the beer will be excellent. When all the beer in the jug is used, just add more molasses and water. The same corn will answer for six months, and the beer be fit for use in twelve hours, by keeping the jug which contains it warm. In this way, the whole ingredients used in making a gallon of beer will cost but a few cents, and it will be better and more wholesome than cider. A little yeast added greatly forwards the "working" of the beer.

To the Tax-payers of Allen County.

Notice is hereby given that Monday, the first day of November, 1880, is the last day for the payment of county taxes without a penalty of ten per cent. The law attaches a penalty after that date. The county treasurer's office will be open in the evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock to receive county taxes, from and after the 18th day of October, 1880, until close of tax-paying.

LATEST CITY NEWS.

Sheriff Munson went to Michigan City this afternoon.

Miss Eugenia McArdel of Bluffton, registered to-day at the Robinson.

Miss Emma Schrage, of Indianapolis, is in the city for the purpose of attending the wedding of Miss Lucy Buck on Monday evening.

Marriage licenses were granted to-day to Charles Smithers and Elizabeth O'Brien; Edward Lech and Ellen Agus. Yesterday afternoon: Oliver Archer and Rachael Jacobs; Frederick Schapman and Elizabeth Pona.

William Papp, employed at Old's & Son factory, had the middle finger of his right hand taken off by a section plane about 10 o'clock this morning. His little finger and thumb were also injured. Dr. Myers and son were called and dressed the wound, and the patient is doing well.

On the inside of to-day's SENTINEL will be found the mammoth advertisement of O. Scheifer & Son, the well-known boot and shoe firm. We would advise every reader to carefully peruse this advertisement and then go at once and secure the bargains offered. The business of Scheifer & Son, without any doubt, now exceeds that of any house in their line in this city, and their patronage is constantly increasing. oct27-1t

ON THEIR MUSCLE.

Much ado about nothing as exemplified in a Justice's office.

Some little excitement was created on the street last night by the announcement that two well-known limbs of the law—Justice of the Peace Greenebaum and Constable Westrum—had committed a breach of the peace, in so far as to indulge in a matinee of fistfights with no very fatal results. The alleged facts in the case as gleaned from the participants seem to point to a personal quarrel, caused by some attachments which the Constable had received against Greenebaum, and was in the act of serving them when the difficulty occurred. The case came up in Squire Ryan's office to-day and was indefinitely postponed. In this connection may be mentioned the fact that the different Justices of the Peace have received the following notice to-day: "You are hereby notified that on and after to-day (October 27th) Henry C. F. Westrum is not acting as my deputy constable."

EDWARD BASHELER, Constable.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

A BIG FIRE IN BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

Lottery Letters to be Held by the Postmasters—Parnell's Secretary Arrested for Libel—Had His Foot Cut Off—That Chinese Letter Had Nothing to Do With It—Etc.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Garfield's disclaimer, published here this morning, only serves to strengthen the case against him as the author of the infamous Chinese cheap letter to Morey. A comparison of the lithographic reproduction of the Chinese letter and the letter of denial shows the same characteristic hand-writing in both, with evidence of constraint and awkward attempts to disguise these characters in the letter of disclaimer. The signature in the present letter terminates with a flourish which is not found in any of his large number of undisputed signatures of Garfield, with which the Chinese letter has been compared. This demonstrates an attempt on Garfield's part to make the handwriting appear different from that shown in the lithographic copy before him. In the signature of the Chinese letter, the "d" which should be over the "i" in Garfield, is misplaced, and put the other side of the "t" over the "r." The same peculiarity appears several times in the disclaimer. The general effect of a comparison of the two is, that the Chinese letter was written naturally off hand, and runningly, as a busy man would be apt to write, while the disclaimer is written with great care, and an evident desire to alter and conceal the peculiarities; but the attempt to do this has only made more evident the fact of the identity of the handwriting in the two documents. For instance, in writing the letter "G" in his name in the disclaimer, Garfield commenced to make the up stroke to connect it with the "a," as is his usual custom, but stopped short in his anxiety to disguise his hand. In the Herald lithograph there is a tell-tale alteration in the last sentence, and as originally written the sentence read: "Any one who is familiar with my handwriting will instantly see that it is spurious. In the document as published the words 'the letter' are crowded in over the word 'it,' in the evident desire to avoid the statement that his handwriting, like everything about him, is spurious. It is probable this alteration was not made by Garfield but subsequently by some one who discovered the yoke in the original. Preserve the lithographic copies of the Chinese cheap letter, place it side by side with the lithographic disclaimer, and you will see that once again Garfield's own denial has proved his own guilt.

Truth, of this morning, reports an attempt of John I. Davenport and his satellites to get possession of the original of the Chinese letter. This attempt was foiled by the cleverness of the editors of the Truth, and indicates the desperation of the Republicans in this matter.

Accidental Shooting at Muncie.

MUNCIE, IND., October 27.—Last evening James Bochtell, aged about fifteen, while returning home from a hunt in the adjacent county, met with a serious accident. He was climbing a rail fence and pulling his shot-gun by the muzzle over after him, when the "damned thing went off," tearing away a portion of one arm, which will in all probability necessitate amputation.

Lottery Letters Not to be Delivered.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 27.—Acting Postmaster General Tyler to-day issued an order forbidding the payment of postal money orders and the delivery of registered letters to R. C. Winteramith, Louisville, Ky., or A. W. Harris & Co., New York, agents or representatives of the Frankfort School Fund Lottery.

Foot Torn Off.

Big Fire in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, October 27.—The Ansonia Watch and Clock Works, of Brooklyn, were burned. Loss over half a million. The works have been in operation about fourteen months. The building and machinery originally cost over half a million of dollars. From time to time additional machinery has been added and improvements made, until it is said the works were the most complete in the country. Some of the machinery were new inventions and will be difficult to replace. Mr. Davis, superintendent of the works, says that it is not likely the factory will be erected on the same site, but the company will put up another factory as soon as they can settle up their business.

The alarms were sounded, bringing the greater part of the fire apparatus of Brooklyn to the scene. Water thrown into the building seemed to have no effect, and the fire raged until nothing was left but the blackened walls. Opposite the factory, on Twelfth street, were two-story-and-a-half brick dwellings, occupied by employees of the company. These were also destroyed. Several other dwellings were also badly damaged. The main building of the factory covered fifty city lots. Phillips, Dodge & Co., of this city, are largely interested in the Ansonia company.

By this fire 1,200 persons are thrown out of work. Half of the employees were young women and girls. The company, it is said, estimate their loss at $1,000,000, but they are not insured for more than half this sum. The company manufacture their own gas. Last night, it is said, before the workmen left, the gas got low and began to flicker, so that it was impossible for men to continue work, and they left, leaving the gas turned on. It is said gas escaped, which may account for the explosion which the watchman heard.

Parnell's Secretary Arrested for Libel.

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Healy, secretary to Parnell, and a member of the Land League, was arrested at Bantry to-day, at the instance of the attorney general, on the charge of libelling a landlord in one of his speeches. Other arrests are expected to immediately follow.

Mr. Healy was arrested for intimidating a farmer who took an evicted farm. Healy visited the farm with Walsh, a member of the Land League, who is also expected to be arrested, to induce the farmer to give it up. Healy was liberated on bail, furnishing bonds himself in £100, with two sureties of £50 each.

A dispatch from Cork reports that the farmer visited by Healy has sworn an information against him, and has telegraphed to Mr. Welsh at Cork that he will be included in the charge of intimidation.

Editor of the "Truth" Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Kennard Philp, editorial writer on Truth, was arrested in Brooklyn to-day on the charge of forgery in connection with the so-called Garfield Chinese letter.

He will be arraigned in Supreme Court this afternoon. His councils have already applied for his discharge on habeas corpus. Another report from Brooklyn, was that the arrest was made on charge of counterfeiting post office dies upon the warrant granted in the federal courts.

Philp was arrested in the lobby of the Park theater, Brooklyn, while in conversation with ex-Sheriff Daggett and several other gentlemen. The arrest was made on a warrant issued by Judge Noah Davis. It charges Philp with composing and publishing an alleged forged letter. Philp and the officer, accompanied by Mr. Verder, his lawyer, came over to the police headquarters in this city. After a brief detention Philp was taken to the supreme court, Judge Davis being temporarily absent. He was detained in the district attorney's office. He will be arraigned before Judge Davis later in the day.

A Farmer Shot.

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, Oct. 27.—A farmer named Patrick Daly, living near Paostown, Butler county, was shot here last night. He had been put out of Mike Riley's saloon, where he had quarreled with a man named Cummings. Thomas Johnson, a friend of Cummings, followed Daly to the street, where he shot him through the heart. Johnson escaped.

THE GREAT TYPE FOUNDER.

Mr. Thomas Mackellar Thinks Hancock the Safer Man. From the Philadelphia Times.

During my absence from the city a circular-note was left at my place of business, which stated that I had been selected as one of the vice-presidents of a meeting of manufacturers, etc., to promote the election of General Garfield. It closed with this intimation: "Should you not decline this nomination in writing, by return mail, the committee will consider that you accept." As I was hundreds of miles away at the time I could not avail myself of this saving permission and my name was duly published in connection with the proceedings of the meeting.

Against such action I beg room to enter my protest, as it places me in a false position.

It is true that I am a protectionist, and I firmly believe that protecting American manufacturers conserves every interest save that of the foreign importers, who seek to overthrow the American system. As president, both of the Type Founders' Association of the United States and of the Book Trade Association of Philadelphia, I have performed no small amount of work in supporting the tariff and in preventing frauds by foreign under-valuations. So far I am in entire sympathy with my tariff friends who participated in the meeting; but I am entirely opposed to them in their opinion that Mr. Garfield is a safer man than General Hancock. The latter has squarely placed himself among the upholders of the American tariff, while the position of Mr. Garfield is at least equivocal. Consequently as a protectionist I feel bound to support General Hancock.

Furthermore, I heartily endorse every measure that aims to unify and harmonize all sections of the country. A prosperous South insures a prosperous North; and the man that harmonize all sections is the man that should fill the Presidential chair.

THOMAS MACKELLAR.

ELSEWHERE in the SENTINEL to-day will be found a card from Mr. Thomas MacKellar, of Philadelphia, the great type founder. Mr. MacKellar is another level-headed manufacturer who does not believe in making the tariff a party issue at this time and who does believe that "a prosperous South insures a prosperous North, and the man that can harmonize all sections is the man that should fill the Presidential chair." There is no industry to which an equitable tariff is more important than it is to the manufacturers of type, and it hardly will be said that the head of one of the largest type foundries in the world and the president of the National Type Founders' Association does not understand what he is talking about.

THAT ably edited paper, the Hebrew Leader, expresses the opinion that "the lessons of the western skirmishes is the same that was taught to the republicans by the result in Maine. The democrats need go to work all the harder on account of the temporary defeat. It is not possible that the American people will place a man who has been convicted of theft, fraud, and perjury in the presidential chair. By his own confession Garfield received bribes and then told an untruth about it, and it cannot be that these reunited states will be controlled by such a president. This language is none too strong, for the 'Reverend' James A. Garfield did it under the guise of supererogation, and that worst of all masks—a religious hypocrite. To protect the country from the disgrace that would follow his election is the duty alike of the people and the press. On this point a religious paper can speak none too strongly."

THE CHINESE LETTER.

On Wednesday evening Mr. A. S. Hewitt, a gentleman of character, a personal friend of General Garfield, with whom he had served in Congress, said in a speech in this city concerning this letter:

"Some people may incline to pronounce it a forgery. I have seen it. I am familiar with General Garfield's signature. I have compared it with his letters in my possession, and I have no doubt it is genuine. If it be a forgery, it is the work of a consummate artist; but if I thought, after examination, there was the slightest doubt of its authenticity, I should not refer to it."

Mr. Hewitt is a Democrat; he is a strong partisan; but he is a gentleman, and while of course his opinion is not final on a question of handwriting, what he said has a certain weight.

On receiving a report of Mr. Hewitt's speech, the Herald on Wednesday evening telegraphed General Garfield at Mentor, stating what Mr. Hewitt had so positively asserted, adding that if he (General Garfield) would probably think it advisable to deny over his own name the authorship of the letter, to telegraph it to him at once, and opening the Herald's columns to him for a denial. To this dispatch we have up to this present writing received no reply. There has appeared in the Associated Press dispatches a very brief report, unauthenticated in any way, that General Garfield had declared the letter a "stupid forgery." From Republican sources in Boston came yesterday the further assertion that no such man as "H. L. Morey" has lived in Lynn since 1873, to which the Democrats reply that he lived out of Lynn, which may be; and that they are now ready to prove his existence if General Garfield denies writing the letter.

We have waited some days to see if General Garfield would make such a denial of the authorship of this letter as we are convinced he ought to make if he did not write it.

It is a mistake in General Garfield to hesitate about a frank and explicit denial in his own name if he did not write the letter. Some of the sentiments in it are atrocious and indefensible. If he entertained them last January, or at any time, he is not fit to be President, or Senator, or to hold any office whatever. If he did not entertain them and did not write the letter, he ought to say so, not at second or third hand, but over his own name.

This letter considers the importation, not the migration, of Chinese; it regards not the people of the United States, but only of a small part, the employers of labor; it does not consider the rights of workingmen, but the Americans or Chinese, but encourages the greed of those who seek to make money out of their labor.

This is simply a defense of the Coolie system, or of a new slave system. The "great manufacturing interests" are, according to this statement, to have the special privilege of "conserving" themselves by importing Chinese, and to introduce here a new form of servile labor, under the guise of immigration. We repeat that General Garfield, accused by such men as Mr. A. S. Hewitt, and later, Speaker Randall, of having written this, wrongs himself if he does not hasten to deny the charge in the most positive and explicit manner, and over his own name. He has delayed too long already.

The Republican organs are evidently dismayed at his silence. After waiting for some days, several of them have reprinted a passage from his letter of acceptance, in which he speaks fairly enough on the Chinese labor question.

Unfortunately for their candidate this is in his case not conclusive, for he has been in several other cases so glaringly guilty of the vice of tergiversation, that what he made public after he was nominated has no necessary relation to his real thoughts and beliefs. Before he was nominated he denounced in congress those who sought to keep alive sectional and anti-southern agitation; but after he was nominated he turned about and unblushingly hoisted the "bloody shirt." Before he was nominated, he asserted positively and circumstantially that reform in the civil service was an urgent necessity and that to effect it all interference of members of congress in the appointments must absolutely cease; but in his letter of acceptance, to the amazement of the public, he turned squarely about and declared that the executive must seek the advice and recommendation of congressmen.

These and other instances, so familiar to the public and to his own supporters that we need not cite them, make any perfunctory or second-hand denials in his case of no force; it is useless for his organs to tell us what he said after he was nominated. What the public has a right to know is whether he ever wrote such a letter as that of which he is accused, and on that it needs his personal assurance. If he did write such a letter he is not fit to be President; he ought to resign from the Senate; his support by any party would be fatal to it. The American people do not want a man in the Presidency who has even in a private letter countenanced a new form of servile labor.

A YOUNG man who does not reach his twenty-first birthday until the third of November, the day following the fall election, is nevertheless entitled to vote. The common law principles, as laid down in Kent, 2d vol. page 254, holds that a man is twenty-one years of age at the beginning of the day previous to his birth.

Boys Must Not Say Amen at Church Windows

The other night, during the progress of the weekly prayer meeting at the First Presbyterian church, four boys posted themselves upon the outside of the windows as an ejaculatory committee, and in response to the prayers offered up interjected "amens" and "glories" at such points as struck them as being the proper ones for such words of approval. The conduct of these outside worshippers was not, however, appreciated by the congregation it disturbed, and this morning the lads were given over to the untender mercies of the remorseless law. John Elgin was fined, with costs, $11.00, and August Wegleb was bounced for $12.00 in default of which he was sent to jail. Constable Shea, who made the arrest, has writs for two other boys who were of the party, and will no doubt have them up before Magistrate Huckby, who will require several dollars of each in expiation of their offense. The boy will probably not hanker after a curb stone seat at a prayer meeting hereafter.

For the past month our extensive Carpet Department has been continually thronged with purchasers. Our sales of these goods are at present unprecedented in the history of our store, running up some days to an aggregate of over three hundred yards a day. We attribute these unusually heavy sales of carpets to three reasons, viz:

FIRST:—

That we are exhibiting a more beautiful assortment of Carpets than ever before.

SECOND:—

That our prices are fully ten cents a yard below other Fort Wayne stores, as well as those of Chicago and New York, where the best extra super are being sold for $1.10 per yard.

THIRD:—

That our citizens are fully assured that in selling them carpets we aim to have them understand first what they are buying, and that we will not recommend low priced or shoddy carpets as either durable or satisfactory to purchasers.

We ask every person desiring to buy Carpets to give us an opportunity to save them at least ten per cent. upon purchases. Almost every day we receive new patterns as they appear in the market, and you will thus always find in our establishment the latest designs of all the best manufacturers.

CIRCULATION, 4,000.

The Daily Sentinel has the largest circulation of any paper in the State outside of Indianapolis, and a larger circulation than all the other Fort Wayne papers combined.

THE CITY.

There was no police court to-day.

The eastern Wabash train was late this forenoon.

Revival meetings will soon be in order at the different churches.

It is said that this weather is bad for coal left in an exposed condition.

The circuit court was in session to-day, settling some trifling matters.

The market did not boom to-day as it did the first two days of the week.

Delicate females find Malt Bitters nourishing, strengthening and purifying.

An old pauper named McGillis, an inmate of the poor house, is said to be ill.

The approaching election casts its shadow before and local matters are becoming dry and without interest.

Two hundred emigrants went over the Pittsburgh road this morning. All shades of accent and age were represented.

Indians whose business calls them elsewhere, outside the State, are returning home to cast their presidential votes next Tuesday.

The season's entertainments have been notably free from annoyance by coughing. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup does this. Price 25c. a bottle.

Judge Zollars will speak upon the tariff question on Thursday (to-morrow) evening. The Democratic First Voters will escort the Judge to the Hall.

It is conceded that Ferdinand Fleigner turns out as finely upholstered mattresses, lounges, chairs and cushions, as any manufacturer east or west.

The subscription list of the SENTINEL is receiving a big boom at present. Seventy-seven new subscribers have been recorded on our books during the past twenty-four hours.

Many of those who attended the funeral of Rev. Father Harnett, at Valparaiso, this morning, returned on the noon train, a number did not remain but returned last night.

Census Supervisor Griffith apprehends that the re-enumeration of the census will not go ahead of 27,000, being a gain of only a few hundred. Some of the men are expected to report to-morrow.

The Ninth ward will elect a councilman on the 16th of November, to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of Mr. Wilkinson to the poor house. Precinct politics will now take a turn at the local wheel.

The dark passage caused by the lumber piles outside the sidewalk and the Masonic structure on the inside should be lighted in some way at night. It presents a lonesome aspect for an evening traveler.

A young man named George Hammond fell down a pit in the court house last night, but was picked up uninjured though unconscious. The police were sent for but the young man recovered before they arrived.

An old farmer from Roanoke was victimized out of fifteen dollars last night, at the Wabash depot, by a confidence man, who borrowed the amount from him, leaving a worthless check for $150 on the First National bank, of Fort Wayne. The check and the beat were spurious goods.

It has been currently reported that "Tom Mays," some time ago city editor of the Toledo Commercial had received the general agency for Mason Long's work on "Fallen Women." Messrs. A. C. Kat & Co., of this city, desire it known that they have the exclusive agency for the book, and that Mr. Mays is in no way connected with its sale.

Mr. J. M. Coombs makes the publication in the SENTINEL of an item from a correspondent cause for an attack on the editor of this paper. We don't know whether Mr. Coombs "bulldozes" his men or not, nor do we care. We desire no controversy with him. We want no more newspaper notoriety than comes to us from the legitimate publication of our paper, and we suppose Mr. Coombs has had all he wants.

COUNCIL SESSION.

Minutes of Last Night's Session.

All the members were present at the meeting of the council last evening, and the session was of some length. The first matter before the board was reading and allowing bills, which were as follows:

In the reports from committees, further time was granted the Gazette company to make a bid on the Mayor's proclamation.

The special census committee reported bills, and Chairman Hamilton said the work had been well done and that only one other city in the country—St. Louis—had been granted the privilege of a re-enumeration. He thought the council could well afford to all on the expense of the work.

In the reports from officers, City Attorney Colerick reported adverse to paying the Gazette Company for alleged printing and the report was concurred in.

The report of the committee on gas and street lights and clerk caused some discussion. Some objection was raised to having 225 lamps, and on motion, the number was reduced to 200. The question of penalty for not lighting lamps, placed at 10 cents, was thought to be too small, and animated discussion followed. The matter was finally recommitted.

The report of the school board was received and referred without reading.

A resolution instructing the trustees of the water works to insert in their rules that the city will furnish pipe up to the curb for those who wish water, was referred to the committee on water works and the trustees.

A resolution instructing the committee on printing to re-advertise for bids for doing the city printing was lost.

The street commissioner was instructed by resolution to notify the property owners to repair the broken wooden sewer in the alley between Clay and Monroe streets running from Madison to Lewis streets.

A resolution ordering a special election in the Ninth ward to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Councilman Wilkinson, on Nov. 16, was accepted.

After some minor business the board adjourned.

Attention Fellow Democrats.

MAPLES, Allen Co., Ind., Oct. 25.

Shall our good Democratic State fall into the hands of a corrupt minority; fall from our nerveless hands; or shall we in our hearts resolve that Indiana must and shall be brought back to the Democratic fold?

Before the smoke had scarcely lifted from the field of the late skirmish our wary and gallant leaders in the very teeth of defiant and victorious enemies, sounded forth a bugle note loud and clear of challenging defiance, and deaf and daftard will that Democrat be who fails to hear, and as promptly responds to duty with all the energies of his manhood. Fellow Democrat, if we allow the enemy to elect a man to the Presidency who seven years ago his party friends condemned with great unanimity as a perjured fraud; a man who to-day openly avows his adherence to the doctrines of Hamilton, which implies a destruction of the rights of the people, then the beginning of the end of free institutions and pure government in this country will have been reached. Next Tuesday is the time fixed for the grandest and most momentous political contests ever witnessed in this or any other country, and as the tide of victory goes so will live or perish the most sublime system of government upon which the sun ever shown. Fellow Democrats, come up coolly and determinedly to your duty. You know the tactics of the enemy. They are desperate, and will stop at nothing. "Money for votes" is their slogan cry. "Sound principles and a pure government for votes" is ours. Let every Democrat do his duty, and with the magnetism, fame and name of Hancock as our leader we will be borne irresistibly on to a heart-gladdening and triumphant victory.

J. D. McHENRY, M. D.

The seeds of sickness and of death

In a disordered mouth are sown;

When bad the teeth or foul the breath,

Both soul and body lose their tone,

And Sordom's brought into play,

And sweeps those dire defects away.

THE RAILROADS.

SEPTEMBER CASUALTIES.

The Indianapolis Journal has this accident record for the month of September. It says:

The accident record of September denotes that the railways of the United States struck a bad streak of luck, or else there was unusual recklessness on the part of the employees. During the month there was a total of 124 accidents, whereby 15 persons were killed and 54 injured. Eleven accidents caused the death of one or more persons; 22 caused injury, but not death, while in no less than 92, or 73.6 per cent. of the whole number, there appears to have been no injury to persons serious enough for record. As compared with September, 1879, there was an increase of 46 accidents; of 7 in the number killed, and of 7 also in that injured. Eleven collisions were caused by trains breaking in two; 7 by mistakes in giving and receiving orders; 3 by misplaced switches; no less than 8 by runaway engines; one each by cars run out of a siding and by a flying switch. A general classification shows 82 accidents caused by defect or failure of road equipment; one directly by the elements; 5 by unforeseen or accidental obstructions; 49 may be set down to carelessness or defects in management; 4 were maliciously caused, and 33 are unexplained. As to time, 72 happened in daylight and 40 in darkness, while in 12 cases the time of day is not definitely fixed. Seven occurred in Indiana, and 3 on Indianapolis lines.

NOTES.

The Toledo, Delphos & Burlington Railroad is now open for business on Division No. 5, Toledo to Grand Rapids, and two trains have commenced running each way.

There will be on November 1st an advance in seventh, tenth and eleventh classes east-bound through trains based on five cents per hundred pounds from Chicago. The principal articles affected by this advance are meats, lard and lumber.

Recent travel on the main line of the Pennsylvania R. road has been surprisingly heavy, in fact greater than ever before in the history of the road. Although the new heavy passenger engines that draw twelve cars have been placed on the line, it is still necessary to run trains in two or three sections. The fast line East usually runs in several sections, with more than twenty cars, with about a dozen Pullman cars.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE KNIGHTS.

Of the company appearing at the Opera House on Saturday evening the New York Dispatch says:

"Mr. and Mrs. George S. Knight, with their 'Otto,' cannot complain of the welcome they have received since their return from their extended and successful tour in England. The theatre during the past week has been nightly crowded, and in their various specialties have been greeted with a plaudite of encores and hearty applause. Since their last appearance in this city, they have made material improvement in the quality as well as the character of the specialties.

"The 'fit' scene is as great a source of delight as ever, and Mr. Knight's recitations have not lost their relish, and for his quaint illustrations of German eccentricity and oddities of dialect he utters, it may well be said, 'Age cannot wither nor custom stale their infinite variety.'"

CHIPS.

Pat Rooney cancelled his Toledo engagement.

The Metropolitan Combination supporting Al Phillips, comedian and mimic, in "The Banker's Son," will leave Chicago for a tour through the West and Northwest on November 8.

Ada Cavendish is Wilkie Collins' favorite actress. She has created the heroine in every play which he has given the public, and will, he says, create all he ever produces in the future.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Mamie Kirkland, of Bucyrus, Ky., is visiting in the city.

Hon. William Fleming is in the city to remain until after the election.

C. H. Bush, of Fort Wayne, registered at the Toledo Produce Exchange on Monday.

Rev. P. M. Jones, of Covington, Ky., was in the city in attendance at the funeral of Rev. Father Hartnett.

Capt. Hettler returned home from Grand Rapids yesterday evening in time to fill his accustomed seat in the council chamber.

Rev. J. R. Dinneen, of Crawfordville, brother of Dr. J. M. Dinneen, was in the city yesterday in attendance at the funeral of Rev. Father Hartnett.

Captain C. Hettler, purchasing agent of the Pennsylvania Company, and Fort Wayne's jolliest alderman, is in the city, a guest at the Morton.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Business at this Morning's Session.

The first business transacted in the criminal court this morning was hearing the verdict of the jury in the case of Richard Rockerty, charged with burglary and burglarious trespass.

The jury found the prisoner guilty, and fined him $1.00 and sentenced him to six months hard labor in the penitentiary.

The case of John Freel was then called, and Judge O'Rourke took the bench, but, on agreement by the attorneys, the case was continued until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The case of William Ruder was then taken up.

AFTERNOON.

The case of Ruder is still on trial and will probably be given to the jury to-day.

AT ANTWERP.

A Democratic Demonstration in Buckydom—The Fort Wayne Delegation.

The democratic demonstration at Antwerp, O., last night, was one of the pleasantest affairs in the annals of the participants. The Allen county democratic first voters, of this city, to the number of 162, in full uniform, and several citizens headed by the drum corps, marched from headquarters, corner of Calhoun and Main streets, to the Wabash depot, with the intention of taking the 7:35 train, but it being behind time, two coaches were chartered and the party were soon on their way to Antwerp, arriving there about 8:30 o'clock. They were met at the depot by a delegation of Antwerp Democrats and escorted to Shirley hall, where a bountiful repast was spread by the ladies of the town. A right royal good time was had, the beat of feeling prevailing, and the manner in which the edibles disappeared bore ample testimony to the excellence of the fare and the appetites of the consumers.

No speeches were made in the hall, the Fort Wayne delegation having arrived to late to hear Hon. A. P. Edgerton, who spoke early in the evening from the verandah of the Exchange hotel to a large concourse of people.

At a late hour the Hoosiers boarded their special train and returned home, arriving about 1:30 o'clock this morning.

Seats for the Knights in "Otto" go on sale at C. B. Woodworth's to-morrow morning.

A gentleman in from Perry township to-day says that Abraham Otto, a well known citizen of that place, is seriously ill.

The elocutionist, Miss Lizzie Grafmiller, of this city, who has been for the past year taking lessons in elocution in Chicago, will play the leading roles in the amateur dramatic company now being organized by H. E. Ralston. The first piece to be produced will be one of Tom Taylor's greatest works, entitled "Still Waters Run Deep," Miss Grafmiller appearing as Mrs. Sternhold, and Mr. Ralston as John Mordmay. The full cast will be announced in due time.

An Example of Benefit Arising from a Club.

In large mercantile establishments in New York and other large cities the many employees naturally indulge in all the amusements that are going. The passion for investing in lotteries is not an exception—but the means is limited by the smallness of their wages. Hence the club system, where all the excitement is furnished by the ownership of many tickets held at an expenditure of but a single dollar. Of course the amount won is not as great as when the single holder holds the entire winning ticket. Mr. John F. Sass, a prominent business man in the employ of Messrs. Benton, Faulkner & Bird, No. 35 Dey Street, New York City, an eminently respectable and large firm of iron fittings, acted as treasurer for a club of six in the September drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, and having made a dollar to M. A. Dauphin, No. 319 Broadway, New York City, or to same person at New Orleans, La., received $1,250 as a recompense. Next!

Royal Protective Union.

This is to certify that my husband, John G. Koebler, insured with the "Royal Protective Union" of Fort Wayne, April 23d, 1880, and died August 3d, being three months and eleven days only. This day the "Royal Protective Union" has settled my claim in full and to my entire satisfaction, and I can recommend this association and its officers to all who wish protection for life, death, accident or sickness. EVAN KOEBLER.

Property Found.

On the night of the 12th and the morning of the 13th inst I found a bay mare about 5 or 6 years old, short mane and tail, the two hind feet white. She was harnessed to a top buggy, well worn. I found said horse and buggy upon the alley way between Harrison and Calhoun streets in the city of Fort Wayne. The owner can have the same by proving property and paying the expenses of keeping the same.

Fleigner can now show the most elegant lot of furniture he has ever exhibited.

I have been a great sufferer with rheumatism for the past seven years and part of the time have been confined to my bed. The last attack kept me in bed for seven long months, in which time I employed the best medical skill without securing relief. I was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, which remedy has entirely cured me. My hands have become straight and can be used as well as ever. I have induced others afflicted with rheumatism to use it, and they have experienced the same happy result. I wish it was in my power to tell suffering humanity of the curative powers of St. Jacobs Oil.
